

Liberty in Stresa: an invitation to look at our city with different eyes

«If there is something on earth and among all nothing to worship, if there is something holy, pure, sublime, something that indulges this boundless desire for the infinite and the vague that they call soul, this is art».

Gustave Flaubert

Fascinating mansions, centuries-old hotels, artists and celebrities

